Lauerman Is Happy In The Work And Hard At It — Loves To Preach In Spanish

By Walter Lauerman

Iquitos, Peru, S.A.
October 17, 1958

Dear Brethren In Christ:

At 7 o'clock every Sunday morning we grab our Bible, lamp, gasoline, bedding, food, motor, victrola and head for our boats and off we go to Mapa Cocha and Astoria. Juan Castro and I go to Mapa Cocha and Simon Guima and Juan Ruis to Astoria. I intend to go this month with Juan Ruis. I am an old hand now I can operate three different kinds of motors, so I am accomplishing something. I don't know why the Lord called such a one as me here, one who knows nothing of this kind of work, but I enjoy it very much and am learning the hard way. I enjoy preaching more every time I preach in Spanish and believe I will be able to do some teaching soon. I want to learn this Spanish so as to preach even better then I did in English. I am ashamed I know so little of the English also.

Simon Gaima has a top on his boat now and ready for the rainy season. (See picture). He went down the Amazon too this month to the Napo river one week. This is a new place and Simon said no one had been there in 15 years. He intends to go back soon and stay longer. Simon also went up the Momon river one week, and also to Picuruyaco and another new village on the Nanay river. Javier Freitas and Luz Nunes have gotten married this week and are moving to Polis with hopes of having regular services there. Pray for them in their new married life and service for the Lord. Juan Ruis said he is going to go Wednesdays also to Astoria and we thank the Lord for this and am assured the Lord will bless him for it. Juan Castro always seems to stay busy, Juan Ruis and family, Iquitos, Peru. This young preacher is now one of our native missionaries in Peru, being almost completely supported by Waltre Lauerman through the First Baptist Church, Iquitos, Peru. This man was the last person baptized by Missionary R. P. Hallum before he left Peru after twenty years of service there. Pray for him, he is one of your missionaries.

either preaching or visiting. Pray for these brethren that they will remain faithful, I believe they will. They are growing in grace much lately it seems.

The Lord has been real good to us and we are so unworthy that we are ashamed of the service we render. Pray for us as we are weak and need all of your prayers. We feel the most important thing left to do in this age is to go in to all the world and I am afraid we Baptists are failing in the task the Lord has commanded us to do. May the Lord bless all of you.

Lewis Tells Of Interesting Wedding Trip — Two Young Baptists Get Married

By Mitchell Lewis

Iquitos, Peru
October 22, 1958

Dear Brethren,

This month I would like to share a wedding trip with you. Javier Freitas decided to take his wife to be, Luz Nunes, up to the city of Tomsiyaco to get married because he knew that the fees were cheaper there and then there was the added advantage of not having to wait eight days after getting the license. He wanted me to be a witness (of course he knew that I wasn't going to swim 20 miles up to Tomsiyaco and that I had a motor to use.) The lad assured me that with the powerful 10-12 Penta we could reach our destination in two hours or less. Javier, Luz, Silvio her brother, and myself left Iquitos at 10:15 a.m. (we waited for the rain to stop). Javier let me know that he knew every turn in the river so after stopping two times to ask which direction to go I began to doubt his knowledge of the Amazon River. I put him up in the front to use his eagle eye to watch for floating debris and logs, but I should have known that he was above thinking of such trivial things. A log slipped under the boat and the 10-12 Penta screamed as she picked up revolutions when the shear pin broke. After replacing the broken shear pin I put Silvio on guard and at 1:04 p.m. we arrived at Tomsiyaco. Javier was beside himself as he had all the necessary papers and he knew that in a few minutes the precious prize would be his. After struggling up the steep bank and asking a few curious children we located the mayor's home. The mayor beat off his two snarling dogs and we let our business be known. Javier gave the mayor his documents and then his highness revealed the fact that the papers did not constitute a license. Poor Javier was ready to throw himself to the ever snarling dogs. I asked the mayor if he could prepare the necessary license and he told me that he could not as the city typewriter was badly in need of repair, but that for a small fee the local school teacher would be glad to arrange everything. I looked over at Javier and he was breathing normally again. Luz was calmly awaiting developments. The papers could not be delivered before 4 o'clock so we all went down to a balsa (a house on a raft) where we ate lunch. Luz had forgotten to bring along plates or eating tools so Javier borrowed two plates and they used bread to push the rice into their faces. Walter's better half had prepared some sandwiches for me so I made out first rate. As the important hour approached the groom changed his clothes and I tried four times to tie his necktie so that it would come out even at the bottom. With the coaching of an elderly gentleman who had worn a tie forty years ago I finally made it to everyone's satisfaction. Again we made it up the steep bank and to my surprise the papers were ready. We immediately set out for the court house with the two snarling dogs threatening to tear a leg off if we made one false move. The mayor seated himself behind his dust covered table and the two growling dogs seated themselves in the dust below the table. The mayor's tongue-tied secretary began to give the happy couple their instructions. After the mayor read Javier and Luz's life history the secretary ordered us to stand while she mumbled through the grooms marriage vows. (They are very good) Javier committed himself once and for all by responding "si". The secretary then gave the bride the same treatment and she too responded with her "si". I then took some pictures of the newly weds signing the register and we made a dash for the boat as it was getting late. We pushed away from the balsa at exactly five o'clock and headed for Iquitos. We ran full speed until 6:15 when I had to cut down to half speed because of darkness. About 6:30 it began to rain and the wind tossed the open boat around a bit. We pushed steadily on until we saw the beautiful lights of Iquitos. It was pouring down rain when we ran aground upon a huge sand bar. After getting our shattered nerves reorganized we finally pushed out into deep water and made our way very slowly around the sand bar and on to Iquitos arriving at 7:10 p.m. The bride took leave of us at the Astoria Lumber Company's dock where they had wooden stairs leading up to the street above. She went on to her aunt's house where she would stay until the happy couple moved to Polis. The soaking wet but dauntless groom and I took the boat up to another port where Javier had rented the boat. We broke another shear pin a block from the port so Javier got a little exercise with the paddle.

Last Call For Detroit Conference, Nov. 24-27

The first session of the 4th Annual Thanksgiving Missionary Conference at Canfield Avenue Baptist Church, Detroit, Michigan will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday, November 24, 1958. Six messages on Tuesdays and the same on Wednesday and the Conference will close with Thanksgiving morning service and Thanksgiving dinner. Those arriving in Detroit on Monday afternoon, Nov. 24, please come to 1210 E. Grand Blvd., for supper. The food will be on the table self serve from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Don't spend money for food when we have it on the table for you free. If you have not written us, drop us a card telling us who and how many are coming so we can assign you to a home. If you plan to stay with friends or relatives, write and tell us so. But by all means come and we will do thee good. Several pastors have told us that their churches will be having special Thanksgiving offerings for Baptist Faith Missions, on a Sunday before the Conference. See Oct. MISSION SHEETS for location of church and how to get there. What are you waiting for? Come on.

Javier paid the man for the rental of the boat and we clawed our way up the mud bank to where don Walter was waiting for us in the jeep. We took

Miguel Ibernón Reports From Codajaz

By Miguel Ibernón

Codajaz, Amazonas, Brazil
October 3, 1958

Dear Bro. Overbey,

The peace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you and your family and your church and Baptist Faith Missions.

I am sure that you already know that my wife and I have been very sick, however God had compassion on us and cured us. Deut. 32:29.

I arrived here in Codajaz the 28th day of September. I came alone but the family is still in Manaus. God made me happy in the same day that I arrived since the night after the sermon God saved two sinners.

The first day of October I went to visit the congregation of Urucuri and there found all firm in the faith. The night in the hour of the sermon God saved a boy. Today came back to the city of Codajaz.

If God permits me to, the 8th of this month I will go on a voyage which I intended to make in the month of July and was not able because of having become sick; I beg your prayers on my ministry because the transportation is so difficult here where I live. Brother Lunsford has already visited Codajaz, and all the church like him much and also the sermons that he preached. He is a consecrated man equal to our Bro. Hatcher. I ask you to embrace him and his family for me. Dear Brother, the river where I intend to go, no one ever entered with the word, but the Holy Spirit is constraining me to go, because of this I am resolved to follow in a missionary voyage the 8th of this month. Expecting that God will accompany me because I am not going to get gold nor silver but lost souls in darkness without God. Once saved they are of much more value than the treasures of the

Much Sickness In Cruzeiro do Sul — To Build New Church Building At Campo de Santana

By Paul M. Calley

Cruzeiro do Sul
Acre, Brazil
October 21, 1958

Dear Friends In Christ,

In my last letter to you I said in substance that we planned soon on starting our long delayed trip upstream, the Lord willing, but we haven't gone as yet because of sickness. My wife has not yet gained her health and has been up and down with sickness most of this past month. The doctor that we have here has been treating her for low blood pressure and thinks she is anemic and giving her medicine to build her blood and for her nerves for they are bad. She is showing improvement under his treatment and we thank God, but she is not yet well enough to travel the rivers. Needless to say her health is rundown and we covet your prayers that God will restore her health.

Much Sickness

Also there is much sickness among the people in Cruzeiro do Sul and many people have died this past month. About half of our members have been sick in the church here with dysentery and the fever that goes with it, but most of them are getting over it now and we are thankful. Brother Rodrigues, the pastor, has been very sick with what the doctor called chickenpox and had a burning fever and was irrational most of the time for two days. He is still sick, but is much better and on his way to recovery, the Lord willing. And I too have had a fungus rash that was spreading over my face, but I am about well of it now, and never was where I couldn't attend the services.

But for all the sickness, our services have been going on, although the attendance has been down. Since brother Rodrigues has been sick I have been doing all the preaching and at every service there has been lost people but no visible results here lately in Cruzeiro do Sul. I haven't heard from Brother Cido or Brother Mario this month as yet, but I am expecting them in town any day now, from Mourapiranga and Japiim. But we know that God's word won't return unto Him void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the things whereto I sent it" Isa. 55:11.

Guajara

We also made a week end trip to Guajara, a few hours travel down stream this month and had good attendance there, and a new experience in our travels. After the Sunday night service we returned to the Embaixador to sleep and about midnight the Lord sent a cloudburst of rain. It rained so hard that the water that blew in from the screened in front and the back of the boat began to fill the boat and in the middle of the rain storm we were dipping water to be sure and stay afloat.

Campo de Santana

Brother Nelsin Manuel Rodrigues, the Brother who is taking care of the work and conducting the services at the church in Campo de Santana since the death of their pastor, Brother Cicero, came to town the first of the month with his wife and little girl to vote in the election and buy supplies. We had the best of fellowship for the week that he was here. He said that all was well in the church there. While he was here Faith Baptist church here in Cruzeiro do Sul voted to give the church at Campo de Santana 4000 cruzeiros to help build a new church building. Brother Nelsin has taken the responsibility of construction of the new church building, and bought nails etc. to start work right away. Their old building is about to fall in the river from the banks caving in and this time they are going to build it on the other side of the river. We thank God for layman in the church like Brother Nelsin and may the Lord raise up more.

With The Lord

Another one of God's people went on home to glory to be with her Saviour about two weeks ago. A sister of the church at Amonha, about 250 miles up river, died here in Cruzeiro do Sul and was buried while I was on my trip to Guajara. About a week before they brought her here she sent me a letter by a messenger asking for help. I sent medicine by same messenger but God was ready to call her home. Just a little while before she died they ask her if she wanted to send for a relative. She told them that she wanted them to sing some old hymns instead and I am sure she left this world of sin rejoicing in her salvation. Oh! how wonderful it is, to have that blessed hope and assurance of "an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you." First Peter 1:4. In closing we ask again for your prayers and may the Lord bless all of you there.

Yours in Christ,
Paul M. Calley

world. Fulfilling the supreme order of the Master to go is an order. I am waiting for the presence of the Lord to convince them of their sins and show the substitute of the poor sinner, Jesus the Christ. Without more, my christian love to you, your family, your church, and Baptist Faith Missions.

Your companion in the battle,
Miguel Ibernón

The Expression of the Feeling of Pastor Francisco Rodrigues Santiago, to the Brethren of the Ministry of the Baptist Faith Mission in the United States of North America

By Francisco R. Santiago

Manaos, Amazonas, Brazil

Francisco Rodrigues Santiago, Pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church by the will of God, to the saints who are faithful in Christ Jesus. To you grace and peace of God our Father and of the Lord Jesus Christ. Eph. 1:2.

Dear Brethren in Christ,

I am writing you these lines in order to tell you the satisfaction that I have in the work of the Lord, for since the year of 1929 (the year of my conversion) I have worked with you in the cause of our Lord Jesus Christ; however, I have to say to you that during this time I have suffered many hardships (God knows them) but also I have crossed many joyous times (God is also aware) that have invaded my heart.

But my dear brethren, all of the joys that I have had, even though all put together would not be equal to, no, not even a minimum part of the joy that I had on the 4th day of July of this year, when the church completed her tenth anniversary of organization and when also was inaugurated the new Temple of Prayer that was constructed for this church. On that night I opened the service and then I gave a word to our Missionary John Hatcher who had said to me that he wanted to say something before the people.

As my brother spoke I was as one caught up in the Spirit and as one seeing the Invisible, when he gave me before the church and the great crowd the keys of the new Temple of Prayer, showing before all his confidence toward me which he had had toward me since the day that he arrived and also the confidence that I have had toward him, thanks to our good God. Receiving the keys, I remained almost speechless, not knowing how to thank God for the beautiful act of my brother toward me. However the Lord gave me words and I spoke something of what I felt toward my brother, thanking him in Christ for his most faithful gesture of a great ministry in the work of the Lord and that he was not ashamed of that he had rightly divided the word of truth. (II Tim. 2:15).

Recovering from my so great emotion, I gave opportunity to my brother to speak and he, as the official speaker of the evening, preached the message of the Lord to the people who listened quietly and with attention.

At the end of the service as my brother (Missionary John Hatcher) embraced me and I him, my eyes filled with tears thinking of the absence that I was going to have from my brother in the time that the Lord permitted. And so brethren I thank you for the great consideration that you have given me, as I have already said to my brother and Missionary John Hatcher, praying always for you and for him that shortly he will be given back to us. Heb. 13:18-19.

Without more my brothers, accept my embrace of Christian fraternity from your aged brother in Christ.

Francisco Rodrigues Santiago

Lunsford Travels To Many Places With The Gospel

By Robert B. Lunsford

Manaos, Amazonas
October 29, 1958

Dear Bro. Overbey and Brethren,

I have been to Nova Terra, Jetuaranha, and the Leprosarium since I last wrote, and if the Boat had left on schedule, I would now be in Faro. I will tell you about the trip to the first two places first. Bro. Argemiro and I left about 6:20 a.m. to catch a boat for another preaching point of his, and we found out for sure the boat was not leaving until in the late afternoon. I had already left word with my family where we were going, so they could get in touch with me if they needed to, but there was a boat leaving in a few minutes for Terra Nova. Bro. Argemiro asked me if it would be all right for us to change the place we were going to for another. I said yes, so we got in the boat for Terra Nova, and were on our way soon.

About the middle of the day we arrived at Terra Nova, and to my surprise it was no city, but houses along the bank similar to many of the places on the Jurua river. We got out and arranged our hammocks in a house, and the family wasn't even there. Brother Argemiro had been there many times before and knew them, so I knew that they wouldn't object. When the family came home, they were pleased with their unexpected guests. They had nothing to offer us to eat, and nothing to buy with, so it was up to us to find something good to eat. Really they had something to offer. There was a garden which had two watermelons, of which one was ripe. Also a little vegetable which tastes like a cucumber, of which they had about ten. There was also several stalks of sugar cane. After we had bought some dried and fresh fish, and a few other things, some woman came in from a lake with a few strange looking fish, all little. I noticed that Bro. Argemiro had taken some loaves of bread with him, and when I saw their condition I understood. Also he opened up his suitcase which had a big sack of candy for the children between the ages 1 and 100. It was really a treat to them, and next time, I'll know how to go prepared. They had things growing that later would be good eating, but at this time they were in a bad condition.

The believers here are hungry to hear any teaching from the Bible. We had two services there before coming back, and they were attended by nearly everyone nearby. Several canoes full came from the other side of the river. We had gone by canoe to many of their houses telling them we were there, and where the services would be. One service we had with closed doors, and here is why. The mosquitoes are so bad there that the old man where we had the second service had built a fire behind his house just at dark. He had closed all doors and windows, and kept the fire in good smoking shape. The breeze moved the smoke under the house and into it until the service started, then he stood at the door and as each person came, he would open the door, let them in, then close it behind them. It was a bit bad on the eyes, but a relief from the mosquitoes. One man made a profession, but by being questioned, publicly, by Bro. Argemiro, we all knew that he was not believing in Jesus, but as many of the catholics will say that they believe in God, and that is as far as they go. They know more things about the Virgin Mary, and little about God or His Son Jesus Christ. Their understanding comes from their catechisms, and whatever their priests, or nuns, tell them.

Sunday a week ago I went to the Leprosarium for a visit. I was told that the bus left for there at 7:30 a.m. but it left earlier and I missed it. I hired a jeep-taxi to take me, and was coming back on the bus. When I got there, about 15 miles from Manaus, I was shown to the little house that is used by the Baptists for their services. The catholics have a big modern structure. There are 15 members of the church that is organized there, and they have 6 people who have made professions, but are not baptized for one cause or another. When I entered, their class ended abruptly, and even though I was a stranger to them, I was invited to preach. I thought it strange that none of them offered to shake hands with me, but soon saw how embarrassing it would have been to them, because some of them didn't have all of their fingers. After I had preached I watched the crippled hands of their pastor as he turned the pages of the Bible to read some more passages in connection with the subject I had used. One girl never got higher than her knees when everybody stood up, because the condition of her feet. She sat on the floor all through the service with her feet covered. Many had toes missing, their noses sunken in, from the disease eating the insides of their nose structure away. I only saw the ones who were at their best. I was told there are many in other houses unable to care for themselves. After the service ended, I visited some believers who were sick with the flu, etc. and couldn't come to the service. Also missed the bus back to town, by staying too long, but found a jeep with three adults and two children in it which brought me back to Manaus free of charge. Remember us in your prayers.

Sincerely,

R. B. Lunsford

Miguel Ibernón Baptizes Five At Codajaz

Brother Lunsford writes that he has just received a telegram from Miguel Ibernón advising that he had baptized five brethren in Codajaz, Amazonas, Brazil. Codajaz is about 300 miles up the Amazon river above Manaus and Miguel is pastor of the church there.

GAIMA AND RUIS TRAVEL

Simon Gaima starting the outboard motor ready to leave on a journey. All the native preachers are being taught how to start and use the outboard motors. Juan Ruis is laughing.

Simon Gaima is on the way with the Gospel to the regions beyond. Simon is as proud of this boat (with covering to protect from rain and sun) and motor as any one here would be with a new car, and he continually expresses his thanks.

As the Lord leads you, make all checks payable to BAPTIST FAITH MISSIONS and mail all offerings to Z. E. CLARK, BOX 551, EVANSVILLE 3, INDIANA.
